- to prevent money laundering
- where products and services are provided to third parties by Weightlifting Wales e.g. for the purposes of identity verification and fraud prevention, and it is necessary to disclose information to them in order to provide the service.

Other third parties (including the police, law enforcement agencies, credit reference and fraud prevention agencies and other bodies) to protect our or another person's rights, property, or safety e.g.

- to exchange information to protect against fraud and to reduce payment risks, if relevant
- in connection with the prevention and detection of crime.

Transfer of personal information outside of the UK

Weightlifting Wales may need to transfer personal information about customers to third parties located outside the UK. If we do, we will ensure that information is protected to a level which meets the requirements of UK law.

Keeping personal information secure

Weightlifting Wales is committed to keeping customers' and partners' personal information secure to protect it from being inappropriately or accidentally accessed, used, shared or destroyed, and against it being lost.

How long we keep personal information

Weightlifting Wales will only retain customers' personal information for as long as it needs it to carry out a particular purpose or meet a particular obligation.

Keeping personal information accurate

Weightlifting Wales will ensure that personal information is kept accurate and up to date as far as is reasonably possible. However, Weightlifting Wales relies on customers and partners to ensure that some of the information it holds about them is accurate and up-to-date. We encourage customers and partners to inform Weightlifting Wales of any changes to their information.

Access to personal information

Weightlifting Wales provides customers and partners with access to their personal information and the opportunity to amend and update their details or preferences (including consent to receive marketing communications) in order to keep the information up-to-date and accurate.

You can request details of personal information Weightlifting Wales holds about you, including on our websites' databases, by contacting us.

Requests must be made in writing. Proof of identification is required in order to protect your information. We also require sufficient details to be able locate your information. For example, dates and details of the website, products or services that you have used. An optional application form may be provided to assist us in locating the information you require.
